Dear Craig,

Thank you for pointing out those parts of my article (in the March "93 issue) which need to be corrected. I have already entered the corrections and/or additions into my computer so that when I do the FULL story in booklet form. all my information will be right. (See attached page.)

One correction which I discovered myself but which nobody else corrected was naming Albert Way as postmaster of Ocean View. When I wrote that part, I was using my memory of how things were. Before the retirement of Mr. and Mrs. Way, and I was employed in the Marmora P.O., I remember my postmaster talking on the phone to Mr. Way about many postal matters, not usually to Mrs. Way, and so I just assumed that he was the postmaster. So, once again, I am glad to have the use of your list. (Error by writer.)

Also, on page 42 of the JOURNAL, under an envelope commemorating the 90th anniversary of Marmora P.O. it says Shaun O'Hara, Postmaster. That is wrong, O'Hara was the Officer-in-Charge not the P.M. (Error by JOURNAL.)

I have already submitted two more chapters to the NJPHS JOURNAL. They are on Dennis Township and Middle Township. Although I hope there are no errors, there is always the chance of some. If there are, please feel free to contact me and tell me.

Sincerely,

Mary E. Law

Dear Brad:

Another P. S. -

In the Dennis Township story, one of the postmasters of Ocean View P. O. was incorrectly listed as Gendem; it should have been Gendron.

Also, under Eldora P. O., Isaac Lawson is actually Dawson. It is spelled with an L in Mathewson's book, and so is probably listed that way in the Archives too; and I sent my story to the Journal using that spelling.

But later research (mine) shows that this postmaster was also the Eldora Methodist church minister, and his name was Isaac Dawson.

I don't remember exactly where I found that information but when I come across it again, if you want, I could give it to you as a reference for correcting his name.

(I do not believe that the Archives is always the last answer any more than I believe that it was the Post Office Department who continually changed two-word post offices to one-word or vice versa - such as from Ocean View to Oceanview or from Belleplain to Belle Plain; my opinion is that whatever way the postmaster spelled it, the POD accepted it.)

Mary

CORRECTIONS TO "POSTAL HISTORY OF UPPER TOWNSHIP" by Mary Law:

Beesley's Point - an earlier post office opened July 6, 1822 under the name of Beesleys, disc. June 12, 1829.

I obtained this info from you after I had submitted this story to the Journal.

Palermo - the Editor's note agrees with my info (discontinued March 15, 1934) but I believe the mail was transferred to Ocean View, rather than to Ocean City. There were four postmasters after Seth Corson.

This section was a direct quote from "History of U.T. & Its Villages". I did not have the additional info prior to submission to Journal.

Ocean View - The post office opened May 6, 1872 rather than 1830, also I have no record of Clifton Smith as a postmaster - Belle Coleman was appointed Sept. 2, 1893 and served until Aug. 4, 1897.

My submitted story said "The Ocean View Post Office was established in 1872, thereby taking... etc. I purposely left out details because Ocean View is not in U.T. and would be covered better in the Dennis Township chapter.

Strathmere - I have no record of Katherine McCullough as a postmaster.

This was taken from "History of U.T. & Its Villages". Again, I had not put a date of establishment because I didn't have that info at the time.

Tuckahoe - There have been 18 postmasters over the years, 3 different "Williams" in the pre-1850 period.

Here I had put 19 postmasters because I counted Thomas Seely two times (He had two different terms).

Marshallville - There is no record of a CMC post office under this name. Prior to 1878 Marshallville was located approximately on the Cape May-Cumberland County line, and the 1872 Beers map shows the main intersection to be in Cumberland Co.

ALTHOUGH THE WRITER STANDS CORRECTED ON THE MARSHALLVILLE INFO, SHE DOES HAVE A DIFFERENT VIEW:

Info taken from "History of U.T. & Its Villages" - quote: "There are records of a ... and a country store which contained a post office." unquote. This writer spoke with quoted persons' son and he explained that there are no records as to an official post office but there was a general store from which mail was dispensed. He has in his possession the sorting case used for that purpose, and labeled alphabetically.

Discussed the possibility of Marshallville getting mail sent over by Tuckahoe P.O. - it could be; also, many ships traveling the Tuckahoe River could have dropped off merchandise and mail.

As far as boundary lines are concerned, it seems that the dividing line was the Tuckahoe River and Mill Creek which would have put some stores in Cumberland Co. BUT, once the boundary line changed, Marshallville became part of CMC and Upper Township. As such, it is of historical interest to CMC and U.T.

This writer's conclusion: if (an author/reporter) makes no claim that all this is official, it then becomes just an interesting (perhaps even significant) historical story.

Dear Brad,

Here I am, late as usual. I had intentions of writing much sooner to thank you and the NJPHS for selecting my story as the best article published in 1993. I was completely surprised by this honor but also happy and encouraged by it. Thank you!

Best wishes for 1994.

Sincerely,

Mary

GENERAL LAFAYETTE'S VISIT

by Herman Herst Jr.

General Lafayette outlived his good friend George Washington by more than a half century, Born in 1757, he lived to the ripe age of 77, dying in 1834.

His trip to the United States in 1824 is well-recorded. He covered a great deal of the country as it then existed and must have been quite surprised to find that it was no longer the rag-tag group of states fighting one another once the British had left.

A stampless cover franked by Z. Rossell, adjutant general of the New Jersey militia, ordered New Jersey's troops to assemble in order properly to greet the General for "appropriate honors." The cover, devoid of any postal markings, was inscribed in the upper right corner in manuscript "Military Service. Z.A.C. Rossell". To the left of the frank in parentheses was the word "Orders." The cover was addressed to "Col. William Emley, Near Allentown, N.J." (Fig. 1)

The order, clearly printed in type of various sizes and fonts, is shown in Fig. 2.

After the Franco-American victory at Yorktown, and the Treaty of Paris in 1783, Lafayette returned to France, hoping to enjoy a life free of politics or military entanglements. Instead he was arrested and endured several years of imprisonment at the hands of the French revolutionaries. After Napoleon's assumption of control, he interviewed Lafayette, concluding that the hero was a hopeless romantic and represented no threat to his regime. He offered Lafayette the ambassadorship to the United States, which Lafayette declined. In 1805, after the Louisiana Purchase, President Jefferson offered him the governorship of the Territory, which Lafayette likewise declined.

When James Monroe became president, Lafayette was invited to visit the United States, an invitation that he accepted. He sailed from France on an American merchant ship on July 12, 1824 and arrived in New York on August 15. During the next 14 months, on a journey planned by the U.S. Congress, he visited all of the 24 states and every large city, with a tremendous outpouring of hospitality wherever he went. Congress voted him a grant of $200,000 and offered him a tract of land in one of the western states. The latter was accepted that it might be a place of refuge for Napoleon, who was imprisoned on St Helena by the British, but nothing came of it with Napoleon's death.

He was accompanied throughout his visit to the United States by his son, named for his close friend, George Washington. His last years were spent serving France in the National Assembly. He died in Paris ten years after his visit to the United States.

GENERAL ORDERS.

IT having been reported to the Commander in Chief, that General LA FAYETTE will reach the Capitol of the State on SATURDAY the 25th instant, the Corps heretofore ordered to hold themselves in readiness to receive the General, will assemble at Trenton at 6 o'clock, A. M. on that day, completely armed and equiped, to render appropriate honors to their illustrious benefactor.

The Commander in Chief directs, that the Revolutionary cockade be worn upon that occasion.

By Command.

Z. ROSSELL, Adjutant-General.

Hearing-impaired students open post office

A New Jersey public elementary school that specializes in the education of hearing-impaired children has just been introduced to the Postal Service's "Wee Deliver" Program. By setting up a pint-sized working post office, students learn job responsibilities and new skills. By writing letters to each other, they enhance reading and writing abilities.

A unique feature of this post office is the school's adopted Wee Deliver stamp, which represents the sign language gesture that says "I love you." The phrase is expressed with an open palm with the pinkie, index finger and thumb extended and the second and third finger folded down.

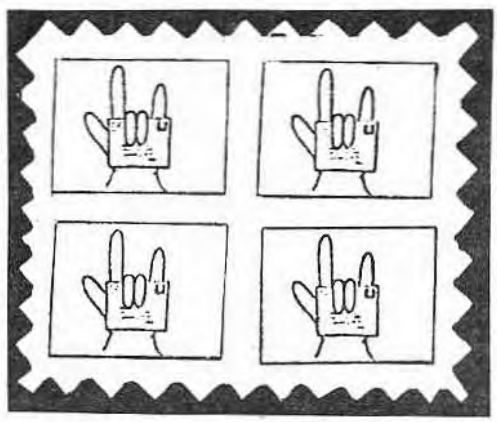
The Wee Deliver Program at Lake Drive School is the first at a New Jersey school that caters to physically-challenged children and the first in the nation at a school for the hearing-impaired.

New Jersey's Newest Local Post is a United States Postal Service sponsored 'Kinderpost' in the 'Wee Deliver' program

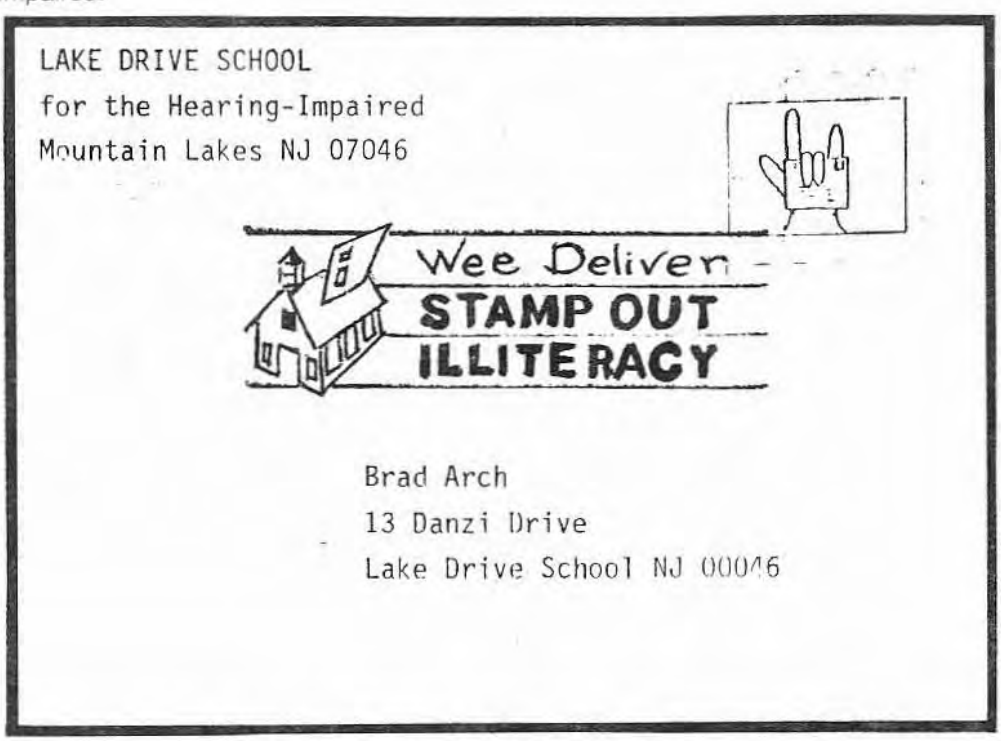
By: Brad Arch

Established on October 27, 1992, and operating within the Lake Drive School for the Hearing Impared, Mountain Lakes, New Jersey.

The students (Local Post Operators), with the able assistance of their teacher, designed and had printed their own 'local post stamps' (nominal value 1¢ each) for use on all mail delivered by their 'Wee Deliver Post'.



Block of 4 of the Local Post Stamp



Typical use Local Post cover

The issuance by the United States Postal Service of the Deafness/Sign Language se-tennent pair of 29¢ postage stamps created an opportunity for the students and school staff to organize a 2nd Day of Issue Ceremony at the school, along with the opportunity of having and using a special pictorial cancellation to commemorate the day, that was used on both the local post stamps and on the new issue commemorative stamps.

Examples of usage on Local Post Post Card's and Pre-Stamped Envelopes are shown here, followed by the Ceremony Program, and some cacheted covers for the new stamp.

AMELIA EARHART RECORD SOLO FLIGHT
Mexico City to New York (Newark NJ) - AAMC#1231 - May2/8, 1935

This is a follow-up to the artcle that appeared in NJPH Whole #52. Of the 40 covers supposedly carried on this flight, we have now recorded and illustrated 6 different covers. Based on the Registration Numbers on the Mexican Labels and the U.S. Handstamps, there appears to have been in excess of 60 covers carried on this flight, most of them having been autographed by Amelia Earhart. We look forward to receiving reports with suitable illustrations of any additional covers from this series.
