In MEMORIAM :

James Anderson Moran
Born April 28, 1936
Entered Eternal Life July 26, 1996

Jim was born in New Brunswick, NJ, was the fourth generation of his family to be raised in Metuchen, NJ, and lived in Westfield, NJ for the past twenty-five years. He was the son of Francis Martin Moran and Helen Anderson Moran, cousin of Suzanne, Cheryl-Lynne, E.J. and Mike Rowland. He graduated from Metuchen High School and Franklin and Marshall College. Following college, he entered the Army Reserves, completed his active duty and went to work for Prudential Insurance Co. in Newark where he began his career in computer programming. He was recently retired from Continental Insurance Co. (now CNA) in Cranbury, NJ where he worked as a computer programmer/analyst.

Early on, Jim took a keen interest in stamps and postal history. When he was eight years old, he'd follow the postman on his route, learning all he could about the Post Office, stamps and the history behind the stamps that he began collecting. He was a member and Treasurer of the NJ Postal History Society, Westfield Stamp Club, Queen City-Warren Stamp and Cover Club, Eire Philatelic Assn., Garden State Numismatic Assn. and the American Philatelic Society. At a recent show sponsored by the Westfield Stamp Club, he received an award for his exhibit of covers depicting the postal history of his hometown, Metuchen

Jim was also State Treasurer of the NJ Society Sons of the American Revolution and active in the West Fields Chapter Sons of the American Revolution where he served as a charter Color Guard member.

Family and friends were treasured by Jim - and he was a loyal, caring friend to many as well as a special cousin to his family. We will all miss his calls and visits along with his wonderful sense of humor. He will be greatly missed and warmly remembered by all who knew him.

POSTMASTER, Huffdale
Hunterdon COUNTY.
N.J.

No. 9001, Series of May, 1898.

Post Office Department,

OFFICE OF THE FOURTH ASSISTANT POSTMASTER GENERAL,

BOND DIVISION,

Washington, D. C., Oct 1, 1898

Sir:

The Postmaster General has discontinued the Post Office at Hatfield, County of Huntingdon and State of N J, to take effect Oct-15, 1898.

On the above-mentioned date you will transmit by mail, duly registered, all Post Office property in your possession belonging to the Government (letter balances, scales, and money excepted) to the Postmaster at Pittston, and take his receipt therefor, (the different articles to be mentioned in detail, if possible,) which receipt you will send to the Auditor of the Treasury for the Post Office Department. The letter balances and scales you are directed to return by registered mail to the Division of Post Office Supplies, Post Office Department, Washington, D. C., securely packed in a box before mailing. It will hereafter be the duty of such Postmaster to open and distribute all mail-matter addressed to your office.

If the discontinuance of your office shall also involve the discontinuance of the mail service on the route (or any portion of it) by which it is supplied, care should be taken by you to send all the post office property to the postmaster mentioned above, before the contractor performs his last trip, thereby saving to you trouble and expense in making the delivery of such property.

If it, moreover, involve the discontinuance of the money-order business you will promptly forward, in a registered package, addressed "First Assistant Postmaster General, Money Order Division, Washington, D. C," all the blank money-order and advice forms remaining in your possession. Instructions will be sent you from that office what disposition is to be made of the Registers, Cash Book, applications and advices paid and unpaid.

Very respectfully,

J. F. Bristow

Fourth Assistant Postmaster General.

Post Office Department,

Office of the Second Assistant Postmaster General,

Washington, D. C., Dec 9th, 1898.

Sir:

By order of the Postmaster General the post office at Hufftale N. J. is to be supplied with mail from your office from the date of commencement of the service until otherwise ordered, as often as practicable for the pay allowed.

The postmaster at the office to be supplied has been instructed relative to the employment of a carrier, and to see that he takes the prescribed oath before entering upon the service.

It is not required that this mail be carried upon a fixed schedule or that you make any report of departures and arrivals of the carrier. The frequency of the service and the days upon which the mail shall be carried is left to the discretion of the postmaster at the office supplied.

You are hereby authorized to exchange mails with such carrier whenever he shall present himself at your office for that purpose.

The Postal Laws and Regulations prohibit a postmaster, the husband or wife of a postmaster, any member of a postmaster's immediate family, and any person employed in a post office from receiving pay as a mail carrier. You will promptly report to this office any violation of this regulation in connection with this service.

Very respectfully,

W. A. Gladden
Second Assistant Postmaster General.

Postmaster at Pittstown
Hunterdon County,
N. J.

INSTRUCTIONS TO POSTMASTERS RELATIVE TO USE AND DISPOSITION OF MAIL BAGS AND MAIL-BAG LOCKS.

In order that the mail service may be kept supplied regularly and promptly with equipment, it will be necessary for you to personally see that the following instructions are properly carried out, and that not a single mail bag, mail-catcher pouch, lock, cord fastener, or label case, good or defective, be allowed to lie idle in your office, but that all be shipped each day as hereinafter directed.

Disposition of Surplus Serviceable Mail Bags and Mail-Pouch Locks.—All surplus mail bags of every description which are serviceable, and all surplus mail-pouch locks in good condition must be forwarded (properly labeled) as soon as received, as follows:

From post offices in Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, and Rhode Island, to the postmaster at Boston, Mass.

From post offices in Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, and Pennsylvania, to the postmaster at New York, N. Y.

From post offices in Delaware, Maryland, District of Columbia, Virginia, West Virginia, North Carolina, and South Carolina, bags to the "Mail-Bag Storehouse, Washington, D. C.;" and pouch locks to "Second Assistant Postmaster General (Mail Equipment Division), Washington, D. C."

From post offices in Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, and Louisiana, to the postmaster at Atlanta, Ga.

From post offices in Ohio, Indiana, Kentucky, and Tennessee, to the postmaster at Cincinnati, Ohio.

From post offices in Michigan, Wisconsin, Illinois, Iowa, South Dakota, Nebraska, Utah, Wyoming, Idaho, Nevada, and Washington, to the postmaster at Chicago, Ill.

From post offices in Minnesota, North Dakota, and Montana, to the postmaster at St. Paul, Minn.

From post offices in Missouri, Arkansas, Texas, Indian Territory, Oklahoma, Kansas, Colorado, New Mexico, and Arizona, to the postmaster at St. Louis, Mo.

From post offices in California, Oregon (with exception of post offices on the Huntington and Portland R. P. O. in Oregon, which go to Cincinnati, Ohio), and Alaska, to the postmaster at San Francisco, Cal.

Defective Mail Bags.—All defective bags should be immediately sent to "Mail Bag Repair Shop, Washington, D. C.," and this office should be advised of the number of each size of every kind of bags shipped.

Defective Locks.—All defective iron mail locks, brass locks, and through register locks should be forwarded as soon as received to "Office of Second Assistant Postmaster General (Mail Equipment Division), Washington, D. C."

Cord Fasteners and Label Cases.—All postmasters must forward surplus cord fasteners and label cases, both good and defective, to "Office of Second Assistant Postmaster General (Mail Equipment Division), Washington, D. C."

Unlawful Use of Mail Bags.—It is unlawful to use mail bags for a convenience, such as storing records, waste paper, etc. See Secs. 839, p. 332, and 1438, p. 488, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1893.

Repair of Mail Bags.—When a through register pouch has even the smallest hole in it, it should be returned to "Mail Bag Repair Shop, Washington, D. C.," for repairs.

As inner register sacks are put into pouches that contain mail matter, they should not be dragged, as this soils them and the mail matter inside the pouch, and at the same time needlessly wears them out.

All repairs of mail bags are to be made by the Washington, D. C., Mail Bag Repair Shop. See Sec. 848, p. 334, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1893.

Request for Mail Bags.—When a mail bag or lock is needed it should be asked for by the postmaster at the head of the route, and when a postmaster intermediate on route requests him to replace a defective bag by a serviceable one, and he does not do so, the postmaster intermediate on route will report the matter to Second Assistant Postmaster General.

When ordering a mail bag, the postmaster should carefully explain why it is needed, and state the number of the route on which it is to be used, and the kind and size of bag wanted.

Official Head of Star Route.—The head of a route is the post office first named in the advertisement and contract (see Sec. 772, Postal Laws and Regulations of 1893); or, more definitely stated, it is the office first named in the statement of the service, whether originally the initial point or subsequently made so by reason of changes of the route. It does not follow that the office from which the mail carrier starts to make his trip is necessarily the "head of the route."

Return of Bags to Service.—Postmasters must empty all bags containing public documents and return the bags at once as above directed. See Sec. 841, p. 332, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1893.

Postmasters on railways where mail trains do not stop will put their surplus mail equipment in the baggage car of a local train and forward it to points herein designated, through the nearest transfer clerk.

Care and Use of Mail Locks.—No mail-pouch lock should be tampered with or injured in any way, but the bag staple should be filed into when the lock can not be unlocked.

A through register lock should not be used until a careful inspection has been made and it is found free from all defects.

Postmasters are not allowed to use a mail-bag lock, new or old, for any other purpose than to lock mail bags, not even to lock a mail box, inside or outside of the office.

The Department does not furnish locks for any kind of boxes except street letter boxes, which are used under the direction of the Free Delivery Division.

When the hasp will not enter the shell of an Eagle lock it is because it is locked, and should be unlocked with the key.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 6, 1898

Sir,

I have caused to be shipped to you this day ~~1 horse mail bag~~

1 #5 mail pouch

You are requested to deliver the pouch at once to the postmaster at the special post office, Tuffdale, notifying this office when you have done so.

(If the above-named post office has been supplied with a pouch, or if you already have one for its use, return this one to the Mail-Bag Storehouse, Washington, D. C., advising this office thereof.)

Your careful attention is called to Chapter XXX, commencing on page 330 of Postal Laws and Regulations (Edition of 1893), especially Sections 837, 839, and 876.

In disposing of your surplus mail bags, locks, etc., good and defective, you will be governed by the latest official instructions, which you will find on opposite side of this sheet.

In every requisition for mail bags, you will be careful to state why and for what route they are needed; and also state the kind and size of bags desired.

Very respectfully,

W. D. [illegible]

Postmaster at Pittstown, Hunterdon Co., N. J.

Formerly receipt Dec 10-98

In the early days of the Oak Grove Grange, a committee of members and Postmaster Augustus Roberson of Pittstown were instrumental in starting the first R.F.D. route in Hunterdon County. They secured the signatures of 98 persons who lived west and south of Pittstown who desired this service. The R.F.D. mail route was started on November 1, 1900 and the first carrier was John Tomlinson, in 1903 the people living north and east of Pittstown petitioned for what was to become R.F.D. #2. At this time Andrew Allen and John McLlory became the carriers for these two routes. When Andrew Allen died Richard Weltz took over, and the routes remained the same until, in 1935, the two routes of R.F.D. #1 and R.F.D. #2 were consolidated. Then John McLlory looked over the consolidated new route, and Richard Weltz transferred to Washington NJ. Harry Britton served as temporary carrier on the death of John McLlory and until the appointment of William Snyder.

THe first R.F.D. service in Kingwood Township. The Oak Grove Grange committee were instrumental in making a map of the entire route, bridges, streams, and dwellings. Total of mileage traveld, number of dwellings, and total population to be served with the cooperation of the Pittstown Postmaster Augustus Roberson, ssecured 98 signatures south and west of Pittstown which included the northern section of Kingwood Township, around Huffdale and Oak Grove.

Postmaster General's order #875 effective August 1, 1900 required R.F.D. carriers to cancel all mail collected along their routes with a special canceller, and postmarking and cancelling any and all mail collected for delivery later along his own route.

POST OFFICE DEPARTMENT
FIRST ASSISTANT POSTMASTER GENERAL
OFFICE OF SUPT. FREE DELIVERY SYSTEM
WASHINGTON

October 11, 1900.

The Postmaster,

Pittstown,

Hunterdon County,

New Jersey.

Sir:-

You are hereby authorized to establish Rural Free Delivery from your office to commence on Thursday , November 1, 1900, with one carrier, at a salary of $500 per annum, including horse hire.

John W.Tomilson has been appointed carrier, and F.J.Tomilson, substitute carrier. Their bonds have been received and placed on file.

The route to be followed, as laid down by Special Agent W.C. Latimer will be as follows:-

Route # 1.

Starting at the Post Office in the village of Pittstown, County of Hunterdon, State of New Jersey, thence in a southwesterly direction on the Frenchtown road 2 miles to the intersection with the Tomilson road at Everett's corner; thence west on said Tomilson road 1-1/4 miles to intersection with the Everittstown road; thence north and west on Everittstown road 2 miles to intersection with the Kingswood Churc road at Palmyra; thence south of east on Kingswood Church road 1-3/4 miles to intersection with Frenchtown road at Kingswood Church; thence on Frenchtown road northeast 1-1/2 miles to intersection with new Baptisttown road; thence south on New Baptisttown road 1-1/2 miles to intersection with Flemington road; thence east on Flemington road 4-1/2 miles to intersection with Croton road; ~~XXXXXX~~ at the rake factory; thence north on Croton road 1 mile to Allen's corner road; thence west on Allen's corner road 2-3/4 miles to intersection with the telegraph road; thence north on telegraph road 3/4 mile to Quakertown road; thence east and north on Quakertow road 2 miles to intersection with Pittstown road; thence northwest on Pittstown road 1-3/4 miles to Pittstown the place of beginning.

P-1335-HT-2

Length of route, 21-3/4 miles; area covered, 19 square miles; number of houses on route, 132; population served, 660.

Carrier, John W.Tomilson.

In connection with this service requisition has been made for 3 U.S. iron collection boxes which you will please have your carrier place at the following points:-

---

Route # 1.
1 box at Palmyra.
1 box at Kingwood Church.
1 box at Rake Factory.

The suggestion has been made to the Honorable Second Assistant Postmaster General that Star Route # 9312, between Huffdale and Pittstown, can properly be discontinued after the establishment of this service; and the attention of the Representative in Congress has been directed to the desirability of requesting of the Honorable Fourth Assistant Postmaster General an order discontinuing the Post Office at Oak Grove, Hunterdon County, New Jersey.

You are directed therefore on the discontinuance of this Star Route to instruct your rural carrier to take the closed pouch to and from the Post Office at Huffdale.

Please advise this Department of the establishment of the service and report upon its progress from time to time.

You are directed to see that your rural carrier leaves the Post Offic for the delivery of his mail immediately after the arrival of the principal morning mail, and that he returns with his collections at as early an hour as is practicable.

Your attention is especially invited to the general regulations which follow:-

THE POSTMASTER-GENERAL.

RURAL DELIVERY SERVICE.

2. Patrons who desire to do so may make, or have made, for their own use, boxes conforming to the specifications set forth in these regulations, by submitting a plan of such boxes, with a sample of the material of which they are to be constructed, or the boxes themselves, for approval to the postmaster at a post-office located at the county seat, or to the postmaster at any first or second class post-office located in the county where rural delivery is in operation, and in case rural delivery is not in operation at the county seat and there are no first or second class post-offices in the county, to the postmaster at any post-office in the county where rural delivery is in operation; and if said box shall be found to conform to the requirements and specifications of the Department the postmaster shall certify the same to the Department and authorize and require the owner to imprint in a conspicuous place on the box the words "Approved by the Postmaster-General."

Sec. 51. The following inscriptions only are permitted to appear on regulation rural mail boxes, viz:

The name of owner and number of box.

Name and address of manufacturer, inconspicuously placed.

The words "Approved by the Postmaster-General," "U. S. Mail."

Sec. 52. Each box shall be erected on the road regularly traversed by a rural carrier and on which the service has been established in such position as to be easily and safely accessible for the delivery and collection of mail without requiring the carrier to dismount from his conveyance.

Sec. 122. Mail matter collected by carriers en route or received by one carrier from another which can, in regular course of service, be delivered in patrons' boxes by the receiving carriers prior to their return to the distributing offices, shall be so delivered after the carriers who effect delivery shall have canceled the stamps thereon by writing legibly across such stamps with an indelible pencil the date, the name of the distributing office, State, and number of route.

New Rural Routes For Post Office

Many Flemington postal patrons are now just getting used to their new route designations, which took effect Aug. 27, with little or no delays in deliveries.

"Considering the extent of the change, it has worked out very well so far," said Postmaster John K. Earls.

The five rural routes have been expanded to seven, adding RD 7 and RD 8, taking places of the old routes, in order to cut down on the number of customers on each route.

RD 7 now serves Sergeantsville, Bonetown and Dayton Roads, formerly RD 2, and an area south of Route 202, formerly RD 1. RD 8, a part time route, has taken some RD 1 and RD 6 customers. The old routes have also been shifted about, in order that the carriers need work fewer hours each day.

Earls also noted that Maple Glen is no longer a rural delivery route, but served by the office.

2 Rural Routes Are Added By Flemington P.O.

The Flemington Post Office has expanded its delivery routes from 14 to 16 this week to meet the growing population in the eight municipalities it services.

The move will not make significant changes in mail delivery times for most customers. However, reduced route sizes will mean mail carriers can manage their routes with less rushing and less chance for errors, according to Assistant Postmaster Ted Sterling.

"They should get better service," he said. "The routes were overburdened before."

Except for those on Route 12 and Route 523 south in Raritan Township, postal patrons will not see any change in their box numbers because of the route adjustments, according to Sterling.

The post office for several years has been urging customers to use only their house numbers or their box numbers with the name of the street or road — not their rural route numbers.

Most of Raritan Township had already been converted to "city" street addresses, with the exception of Route 523 south and Route 12, Sterling said.

About 25 percent of Flemington Post Office customers with rural delivery route addresses are receiving notice of new route assignments this week, according to Acting Postmaster Jim Howlin.

The Flemington Post Office services eight Raritan, Readington, Hillsborough, Kingwood, Franklin, Delaware and East Amwell townships, as well as Flemington itself.

750 Rural Route Patrons Given New Mail Addresses

Effective Saturday, 750 rural boxholders served by the Flemington Post Office will have new addresses.

The changes will affect some boxholders in each of the existing seven carrier routes, as the entire Flemington rural delivery area is realigned and two new routes — R.D. 9 and R.D. 10 — are added.

Postmaster John Earls said as few as 35 boxes on some routes and as many as 150 on others are involved.

For the first time, the post office is advising residents to establish "permanent" addresses so they will not have to keep filling out "change-of-address" forms as Flemington's rural delivery continues to expand.

In all townships except Raritan, the way to do that, Earls said, is to use only a rural box number and the name of the road lived on, leaving out the number of the route.

For example, R.D. 9, Box 999, the address for a home on Greenleaf Lane in Readington Township, would become simply Box 999, Greenleaf Lane, Flemington.

Earls said any boxholder can follow this procedure, gradually changing his address with all correspondents, even if there is no route change this time.

House Numbers

In Raritan Township,, house-and-street numbers are being provided through Assessor William Brewer.

Brewer said this week, however, that he is working on the numbering system in his spare time and so far has completed only a small portion of the township.

In particular, those persons whose addresses are being changed on Saturday can obtain a house-street address either from their mail carrier or from Brewer's office at the municipal building.

Mainly, that involves the Croton hill and plateau areas, Brewer said, such as Allen's Corner, Barton Hollow, Old Hardscrabble Hill, Oak Grove-Klinesville roads and Featherbed Lane. He also has numbered Route 31 between Route 523 and River Road and Route 202 between Voorhees Corner Road and River Road.

The new R.D. 10 is designed to serve Raritan Township's planned residential developments, Flemington South Estates and Concord Ridge.

No special numbering is required there, as those developments are internally numbered and are served by new cluster boxes provided by the U.S. Postal Service.

Since regulations say there is no door-to-door delivery in such areas, Earls said the postal service designed special weather-tight locked boxes, which are installed in a central location. Access can be gained only by the boxholder and the mail carrier, he said. The post office installs and maintains the boxes.

Earls said the expectation is that Flemington's rural routes will continue to require realignment as the area grows, so boxholders should establish a permanent address through one method or the other.

Those whose addresses are being changed on Saturday have two years to notify all correspondents. Other boxholders can make the changes as the occasion arises.

Clerks and carriers are trained to handle the addresses either way, Earls said.

"In the bag" is not an apt description for a rural letter carrier's job. Anything can happen when someone has to cart 15 feet or more of mail 40 or 50 miles to 400 or 500 stops daily.

To prepare these carriers to be a post office on wheels, U.S. Postal Service administrators last week started a new training academy at the Phillipsburg post office. The three-day program for new employees in 13 counties in northern and central New Jersey covered by the New Brunswick postal division is the first of its kind in the Northeast, Phillipsburg Postmaster Dan Gursky said.

Monica Collumb, Barbara Huff and Ronald Krilla learned the different classifications of mail and how to sort mail in a mock rural post office set up in the basement of the Phillipsburg office, said Bill Murray, Phillipsburg's superintendent of postal operations. They also traveled one day with a rural carrier.

Driver safety training and general orientation were done at division headquarters in New Brunswick before the workers started their jobs in Flemington, Murray said. Employees must have their own vehicle.

Rural carriers sell stamps, money orders and Express Mail and collect mail as well as delivering it, Murray said. Efficiency and self-motivation are crucial because carriers are paid by the number of stops and miles, not by the hour.

Rural carriers cover various delivery sites—regular neighborhoods, apartments, industrial parks, farms and houses on steep, treacherous roads.

"They see the entire gamut of possible types of delivery, from the sublime to the ridiculous," Murray said. "During the day, they might be confronted with construction vehicles, roads closed by mudslides, barricades because of road resurfacing and all kinds of weather on all kinds of road surfaces from improved macadam and cement to dirt roads."

The academy, developed by union and management leaders in the New Brunswick division, is a spinoff of the program established years ago for new city carriers, Murray said. Frenchtown Postmaster Monty Tange, Murray, Gursky and Bill Hanna, a supervisor in Phillipsburg, ran the program with help from Joan Apgar, a substitute rural carrier.

"The post office is making giant strides as far as employment involvement" and trying to improve the "quality of work life" for rural carriers, Murray said. Through the training academy, rural carriers can learn their jobs and get tips from other carriers without any pressure.

"What happened to me when I was a regular carrier is they said 'go for it'—no training, very little training at all," Murray said. "Now the post office is saying there's a need for training, training pays off, you get better people, you get less problems, you get better production."

The academy will be run every two weeks, unless there are no employees to train, Murray said.

Flemington Post Office Adds Routes

Many of the 2,900 customers in Flemington's rural route mail system will be getting a change in their route numbers as soon as the word comes from the district manager for the North Jersey Postal District.

"We're still waiting for the green light to make the changeover Aug. 27," said Postmaster John K. Earls.

He said the present five rural routes will be expanded to seven, adding RD7 and RD8, and there will be 150 boxes taken from existing routes and assigned to another.

The revsison is necessary because of regulations requiring that carriers working more than 40 hours a week be paid overtime. Expansion to two more routes and cutting down on the number of customers on each of the present routes will mean local carriers will no longer get overtime.

Now they work a five-day week of nine hours daily. When the changeover is made, they will work a six-day week but fewer hours a day. This means it will cost present carriers about $2,500 in overtime pay.

A substitute now works the sixth day. Under the new arrangements, substitutes will be only for sick leaves and annual vacations. Two of the senior substitutes will handle the new RD7 and RD8.

Flemington's rural routes comprise nearly all of Raritan Township and parts of Readington, Franklin, Delaware and Kingwood townships.
